August 2018

Hello everyone! I'm Carolyn Bachino. We may or may not have met at a recent Chamber event so I am introducing myself and my business to you here and would like to invite you to join my email list. Please read below to learn about all the excellent free gifts and additional networking opportunities you will receive when you do!

My company, Health Coach Link LLC is located in my home office at 209 Keats Avenue in Elizabeth. We believe that certified health coaches and wellness coordinators are the missing link to improved health outcomes!

We serve three types of clients:

More about Me -

I am an AADP Board Certified Integrative Nutrition Health Coach specializing in hormone health. I cater to the Orthodox Jewish community, because everything that I recommend is kosher certified, whether it be food or supplements and I understand the cultural sensitivities around that community, which I am a part of. However, I do work with all types of clients, male or female. If you are suffering from lack of sleep, inability to lose weight/sluggish metabolism, low energy, fertility issues, menopause, thyroid and/or adrenal dysfunction, or you are not sure exactly what is going on in your body, I can help you figure it out. I work alongside functional medicine providers and other health professionals, as needed. I can be your coach to help you work through the difficult transitions that come along with trying to implement lifestyle changes for yourself or your family.

My vision is to produce thriving and healthy families through helping stressed out working moms, because you moms are the glue that holds it all together for your family and I want you to feel loved, supported and empowered, every step of the way!
