

Palliative Care ECHO Series

A Palliative Approach to Dementia Care for Indigenous Seniors and Elders

with Nicole Lee, MSc, HBK, R.Kin

Learning Objectives:

- Identify culturally relevant perspectives on dementia
- Apply principles of cultural safety to create respectful and inclusive care plans for Indigenous seniors and Elders
- Integrate trauma-informed approaches to address the impacts of historical and ongoing trauma
- Collaborate with Indigenous families, communities, Elders and Knowledge Carriers to enhance dementia care

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER FOR THIS FREE EVENT OR SCAN BELOW

Nicole Lee is Anishinaabekwe. She grew up in Thunder Bay, but is a proud member of Couchiching First Nation. Nicole works as an Indigenous Health Associate with N'doo'owe Binesi, specifically in the field of seniors and geriatrics care. Her work within St. Joseph's Care Group includes supporting the Indigenous residents and Elders within the long-term care sites and outpatient programs. Nicole has a background in Kinesiology and Indigenous Health.

JOIN ON ZOOM

March 26, 2024

12 pm - 1:00 pm EDT

Lakehead
UNIVERSITY

Centre for Education and Research on Aging & Health

N'DOO'OWE BINESI

ST. JOSEPH'S CARE GROUP
NORTH WEST REGIONAL
PALLIATIVE CARE PROGRAM