Need for Math Tutoring in CMS

- ▶ Elementary math proficiency matters for a student's self-identity as a successful student, middle school preparedness, high school graduation, and postsecondary and career options.
- ▶ Our community and students are missing out when only 35% of Charlotte 4th graders are proficient in math, as evidenced by 2022 NAEP scores. This represents a decline from pre-pandemic proficiency levels.
- ▶ Heart's program focuses on elementary-aged students who may not otherwise have access to resources for private tutoring and are performing 2-3 years below their grade level in math.

Decline in NAEP Scores, Charlotte

"Heart Math Tutoring is just the right amount of time and does great meeting students where they are. I wish more students could have this opportunity."

- Ms. Crawford, First Grade Teacher, Endhaven Elementary

Funding Partners

- ▶ Donors provide a Program Coordinator, curriculum, and tutoring supplies for each Charlotte school site. Additionally, donor generosity allows for investment in volunteer recruitment, program/curriculum development, data analysis, and family engagement.
- ▶ Heart's program would not be possible without financial support from the organizations and individuals listed below. We are humbled by their support, and honored to continue to partner with them as we grow our program in Charlotte.
