

Workforce Update:

As our industry continues to grow, we hear from our members that they are looking for workers. Demand is at an all-time high. To that end, we continue to work on many levels across the state to develop and promote programs that can lead to a pipeline of work-ready individuals for our industry. From our participation and appointments on State-level boards and commissions, to local workforce development and CTE committees, we are working constantly to make connection and move the ball forward. What we really need is you. Let us know what you are looking for. What skills you require and what wages you pay. If you have job openings, want to participate in a program, career day or need connections to resources, let us know. We are here to help you.
