

METHUEN MEMORIAL MUSIC HALL

STEVEN YOUNG

Taunton, Massachusetts

Wednesday, August 5, 2020, 7:30 P.M.

Sponsored by William H. Drury

Livestreamed on www.youtube.com/c/methuenmemorialmusichall

No audience allowed in the Hall - Please note new starting time

Works by Dunham, Bartmuß, Hoyer, Rheinberger, Commette, Bracquemond, Claussmann and Vierre

Steven Young DMA, AAGO, serves as a professor of music at Bridgewater State University where he teaches courses in music theory and analysis, and conducts the choral ensembles. Dr. Young holds degrees in organ performance from Barrington College, New England Conservatory, and Boston University. As a performer, he has played throughout the United State and in Europe. As a scholar, his research has primarily focused on early twentieth century French organists and composers. His research articles and reviews have appeared in The Diapason and The Choral Journal. He has presented numerous workshops, lectures, and choral reading sessions for the American Guild of Organists, the American Choral Directors' Association, and the Organ Historical Society. He has also recorded several of the organ works of Boston-area composer Henry M. Dunham. He is currently the organist at St. Martin's Episcopal Church, Providence, RI.

192 Broadway (Route 28), Methuen

www.mmmh.org

SPONSORED BY WILLIAM H. DRURY

- In Memoriam, Opus 17 (dedicated to Edward F. Searles, Esq.).....Henry M. Dunham (1853-1929)
(Played in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of Searles' death, August 6, 1920)
- Prelude and Fugue in D Minor, Opus 7.....Richard Bartmuß
(1859-1910)
- Drei Fantasiestücke, Opus 39.....Karl Hoyer
ii. Meditation (1891-1936)
- Sonata XI in D Minor, Opus 148.....Josef Gabriel Rheinberger
(1839-1901)
- Agitato*
Cantilene
Intermezzo
Fuge
- Intermission
- Six Pièces (1914).....Édouard Commette
(1883-1967)
- Scherzo*
- Variations sur un Noël (1936).....Marthe Bracquemond
(1898-1973)
- Pastorale, Opus 33, no. 5.....Aloÿs Claussmann
(1850-1926)
- Deuxième Symphonie, Opus 20 (1902).....Louis Vierne
(1870-1937)
- Allegro risoluto ma non troppo*

Steven Young, DMA, AAGO, serves as a professor of music at Bridgewater State University where he teaches courses in music theory and analysis, and conducts the choral ensembles. Dr. Young holds degrees in organ performance from Barrington College, New England Conservatory, and Boston University. As a performer, he has played throughout the United State and in Europe. As a scholar, his research has primarily focused on early twentieth century French organists and composers. His research articles and reviews have appeared in The Diapason and The Choral Journal. He has presented numerous workshops, lectures, and choral reading sessions for the American Guild of Organists, the American Choral Directors' Association, and the Organ Historical Society. He has also recorded several of the organ works of Boston-area composer Henry M. Dunham. He is currently the organist at St. Martin's Episcopal Church, Providence, RI.