

Repairing Relationships

Celebrate Recovery Birdsboro

715 E. 3rd St, Birdsboro

Friday, Jan. 31
7:00 pm

Special Speaker: Joel Jakubowski

After 20 years of active addiction, Joel entered long-term treatment in 2003 and found freedom! He went on to receive his BA in Behavioral Health & Addictions Studies from Alvernia University, MA in Organizational Leadership from Clarks Summit University, and has completed his doctoral course work in Behavioral Health Org Leadership at Grand Canyon University. He is a Certified Minister, Certified Alcohol & Drug Counselor, Certified Intervention Professional, and Certified Recovery Specialist. He is married to his treasure, Angie, also an addictions professional. They have 2 sons, Brett and Nathan.

As a minister and addictions professional and advocate, Joel firmly believes it's never too late to become the person you were intended to be. Through his faith he was eventually able to overcome the battle against the cycle of his addictive behaviors and now lives a life dedicated to serving individuals and families facing the devastating effects of addiction. He travels the country providing addictions training and sharing his story of recovery as he is passionate about breaking the stigma of addiction and the freedom found through proper education.

Large Group: 7-8 pm Open Share: 8-9 pm Crosstalk Café: 9-9:30

All are welcome.

Repairing Relationships

Celebrate Recovery Birdsboro

715 E. 3rd St, Birdsboro

Friday, Jan. 31
7:00 pm

Special Speaker: Joel Jakubowski

After 20 years of active addiction, Joel entered long-term treatment in 2003 and found freedom! He went on to receive his BA in Behavioral Health & Addictions Studies from Alvernia University, MA in Organizational Leadership from Clarks Summit University, and has completed his doctoral course work in Behavioral Health Org Leadership at Grand Canyon University. He is a Certified Minister, Certified Alcohol & Drug Counselor, Certified Intervention Professional, and Certified Recovery Specialist. He is married to his treasure, Angie, also an addictions professional. They have 2 sons, Brett and Nathan.

As a minister and addictions professional and advocate, Joel firmly believes it's never too late to become the person you were intended to be. Through his faith he was eventually able to overcome the battle against the cycle of his addictive behaviors and now lives a life dedicated to serving individuals and families facing the devastating effects of addiction. He travels the country providing addictions training and sharing his story of recovery as he is passionate about breaking the stigma of addiction and the freedom found through proper education.

Large Group: 7-8 pm Open Share: 8-9 pm Crosstalk Café: 9-9:30

All are welcome.