KEEPING YOUR CRITICAL INFRASTRUCTURE FLOWING 💧 💧 💧

Another successful service completed by the Cougar Pumps field engineering team.

Our engineers recently carried out a full service on a Grundfos pump station at a water treatment plant, helping to ensure reliable performance, maximise efficiency, and reduce the risk of unplanned downtime.

Preventative maintenance is essential for keeping critical pumping systems operating safely and efficiently—protecting both infrastructure and the environment.

Whether it's routine servicing, emergency repairs, pump refurbishment, or complete system support, Cougar Pumps deliver expert solutions across the water, wastewater, industrial, and commercial sectors.
