EXTENDING THE LIFE OF A STRATE PUMPING STATION

Another successful wastewater upgrade completed by the team at Cougar Pumps.

As part of a recent refurbishment, our engineers installed new STRATE separator flaps, a replacement pump head, and new sensors to restore peak performance and ensure long-term operational reliability.

By replacing key wear components, we have helped return the station to optimum efficiency while extending its service life.

Regular refurbishment and preventative maintenance are essential for keeping wastewater systems operating safely, efficiently, and without costly downtime.
