

Spiritual and Moral Response to the Climate Crisis

An Online Dialogue Featuring Kareenna Gore
Director, Center for Earth Ethics at Union Theological Seminary

How do we understand the climate crisis from a spiritual and moral perspective?

What personal and societal change is needed for a sustainable future?

Why is it particularly important that people of faith be engaged in combating climate change?

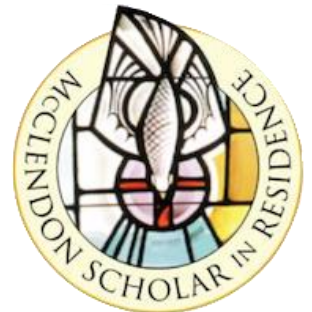

What specific things can I do to make a difference?

Sponsored by the McClendon Scholar Program at The New York Avenue Presbyterian Church

Saturday, September 19, 10 -11:30 am

Register to receive the zoom link:

www.goreseptember19.eventbrite.com

For more information: 240 393-7246 or dialogdays@aol.com