Ted Wolfendale, Esq. received his Juris Doctorate degree from Stetson University College of Law in May of 1988. He began practicing law immediately upon graduation working as an Assistant State Attorney for the State of Florida. He began his private practice shortly thereafter in 1990. His thirty-five-year legal career has been devoted to tirelessly working to advocate for his clients to help resolve their many and varied legal dilemmas.

The issues and concerns revolving around Elder Care have become the primary focus of Ted's practice due to his familial connection to Dial-a-Nurse, the original and longest serving Home Health Company in SWFL. Starting over forty-five years ago, the staff and caregivers at Dial-a-Nurse have made it possible for thousands of clients to successfully age in place in their own homes.

Because of his unique knowledge of the US healthcare system, he was selected to represent the United States at a healthcare Summit of Nations at the European Union in 2011 and has donated time and knowledge working with non-profits to improve the quality of life around the world.

His extensive knowledge of the law and his keen insight and deep concern for those he has helped give him a broad knowledge base in understanding the challenges that the elderly face. Having that level of understanding is critical when it comes to concerns like Medicaid Planning, planning for retirement and planning for their own health and decision-making when they are no longer able to make them.
