Rising Senior Class of 2020 Summer Tips

1. Ask teachers to write recommendations. Don't wait until the last minute! Generally, they need at least 4 weeks before your deadline, usually in Sept/Oct, and it is helpful to provide your resume.
2. Create or continue to update your resume listing all of your extracurricular activities, honors and work experience - be sure to quantify (how many hours a week for how many weeks a year, for how many years). This will be a great aid for your teachers and school counselor in writing their recs, as well as a helpful aid when you fill out your applications.
3. Retake ACT or SAT if needed. Take advantage of free test prep through Khan Academy, or through the ACT website (follow ACT on Twitter). Dr. Shanoff will be offering incentives to seniors who complete Khan hours over the summer!
4. Narrow down your list of colleges. Obtain application, scholarship, and financial aid info from each. Note options such as Early Action (non-binding) or Early Decision (binding).
5. Make a master calendar and checklist. Note test dates, fees, deadlines for admissions, scholarship and financial aid applications, transcripts, test scores, etc.
6. Work on your college admissions essays. The College Board website offers tips: <https://bigfuture.collegeboard.org/get-in/essays/tips-for-writing-an-effective-application-essay-college-admissions>. Your English teacher will likely start off the year helping fine tune as well.
7. Start/continue researching and applying for scholarships.
8. Look in your mailbox soon for an appointment card for Senior Yearbook pictures from Leonard's Photography. You may call to change the appointment as needed. You do NOT have to pay for this! Just ask for the free yearbook pose.
9. Get a job, job shadow/internship or volunteer!
10. Make sure you finish strong this year and stay strong your senior year. Colleges DO care about the classes you take Senior year and they'll want to see your grades at mid-year and final transcripts. Senioritis has caused some acceptances to be rescinded.
