The Sharabi Brothers

Submitted by Lunny Melmed

January 16th, 2024. Israel confirms the murder of Yossi Sharabi, held in captivity for 101 days. His body lies in the hands of his Hamas kidnappers.

Early morning, on that fateful, Black Simchat Torah, 7th October, 2023, Hamas terrorists savagely ravaged Kibbutz Be'eri, less than 2.5 miles from the Gazan border.

Yossi and Nira Sharabi and their three daughters, hearing terrifying, wild shouts in Arabic, barricaded the door of their safe room where they were hiding. They were outnumbered. The terrorists blasted open the door, brutally abducting Yossi. Nira, Yossi's wife, and their three daughters miraculously managed to hide and were rescued many hours later. Their home was set ablaze as were many of the Beerli homes. Today, the once lush, blossoming Kibbutz Be'eri lies in ruins. Nothing remains of the laughter and warmth of the Sharabi home.

That same catastrophic day, Eli, Yossi's brother, living nearby, suffered a similar fate. He too was abducted, but Lianne, Eli's wife, a British-Israeli, their two daughters, Noya and Yahel and pet dog, were brutally murdered in their home minutes after Eli was kidnapped. Eli does not know that he no longer has a family. Should he ever be released from captivity, he will have no immediate family to return to.

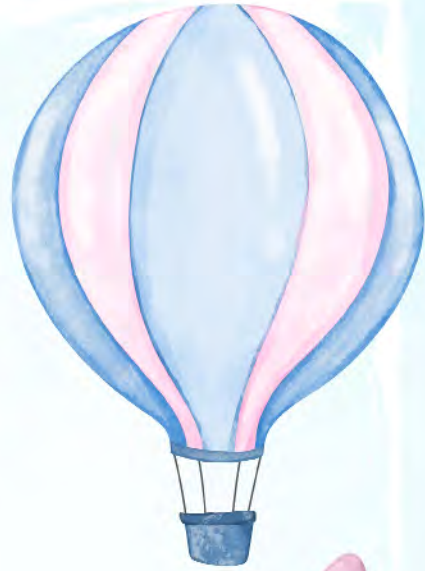

Untold devastation was unleashed on the kibbutz on that ill-fated day. Lianne, her two daughters and over 80 kibbutz members could not be buried in their beloved kibbutz. All the slaughtered members were buried in a cemetery over 15 miles away.

This week devastated members of the Sharabi family sit shiva, unable to give Yossi a peaceful burial.

Yossi was a loving, devoted father and husband. A family man with a big heart. Full of the joys of life. He grew up in Tel Aviv but moved to Kibbutz Be'eri 30 years ago following his brother Eli, because he loved the shared kibbutz lifestyle. He was a passionate fan of Maccabi Tel Aviv and loved surfing, but his pride and joy were his wife, Nira and their three daughters, Yuval, Ofer and Oren. A family man with a big heart. Full of the joys of life until everything was savagely ripped away from him, aged 53.

May his soul rest in peace.
