Bicycle Transportation: An Introduction to Planning and Design

Thursday, May 27, 2021 ............. VIRTUAL!

The Active Transportation Resource Center (ATRC), in collaboration with Caltrans, presents the new Bicycle Transportation: An Introduction to Planning and Design virtual training course!

This one-day overview virtual course recognizes California’s commitment to provide for all modes of transportation and highlights planning and design standards, guidance, and tools that direct and guide bicycle transportation. The course is intended for engineering and planning professionals from local, regional, and state agencies.
