Minimum or maximum rates apply after the end of the first index term.

Key terms and information

Index rate cap: Maximum percentage of index performance that can be credited as interest over an index term. For example: 10% index change > 5% cap = 5% interest earned.
Performance-triggered: Initial declared interest rate is credited to the account if index performance is equal to or greater than the minimum index value change. For example: 5% declared interest rate = 5% interest earned when index performance is 0% or greater. 5% is credited even if index performance is 10%.
Premium: Money used to purchase the annuity.

Annuities are issued by The United States Life Insurance Company in the City of New York (US Life).

Important information on The Power Series of Index Annuities

Index annuities are not a direct investment in the stock market. They are long-term insurance products with guarantees backed by the claims-paying ability of the issuing insurance company. They provide the potential for interest to be credited based in part on the performance of the specified index, without the risk of loss of premium due to market downturns or fluctuations. Index annuities may not be appropriate for all individuals.

Withdrawals may be subject to federal and/or state income taxes. An additional 10% federal tax may apply if you make withdrawals or surrender your annuity before age 59½. Consult your tax advisor regarding your specific situation.

Index interest accounts are not a permanent part of the contract and may be removed due to circumstances beyond the control of United States Life Insurance Company in the City of New York (US Life). Such circumstances include, but are not limited to, the discontinuation of an index, a change in the composition or calculation of an index, the inability to license the use of an index and the inability to hedge risks associated with these index interest accounts. Special rules govern how assets in a discontinued index interest account may be reallocated. These rules may differ by state. Please see the Owner Acknowledgment and Disclosure Statement for more information.

All contract and optional benefit guarantees, including any fixed account crediting rates or annuity rates, are backed by the claims-paying ability of the issuing insurance company. They are not obligations of or backed by the distributor, insurance agency or any affiliates of those entities and none makes any representations or guarantees regarding the claims-paying ability of the issuing insurance company.
