

Goodie Bags Fundraiser for our Summer Pediatrics Clinic's

The Volunteer Healthcare Clinic is always trying to inspire young people to take an interest in health care. This semester we had Addie Avery (pictured above on the right with cousin Maddie), a high school student from St. Andrew's Episcopal School do a donation drive as her Senior Project. She worked closely with Sandra, our VISTA Associate, and Laura, our Director of Volunteers, to create a campaign to collect items to make goodie bags to be distributed to young patients who attend our summer Daytime Pediatric clinics.

Addie prepared promotional flyers, sent out emails to her fellow students, put out a donation bin in the vestibule of her school library to collect items and supplemented this with a GoFundMe page to collect monetary donations. To date we have handed out 34 goodie bags to kids in June with two more clinics planned including Healthy Kids Day in August.

Thanks again Addie for all your hard work and the inspiration you provide for other young teens your age!
