

Making COP Count

'Make COP26 Count' is a programme run jointly by USPG and Hope for the Future to support churches to act in pursuit of climate justice. The aim is to really get the best possible outcome from the UK hosting of COP26 in Glasgow in November this year.

In the Diocese of Leeds, 3 churches have so far signed up to be part of the programme: All Saints Otley; St Oswald's Guiseley and St Matthias, Leeds.

The churches will be holding services that reflect on our responsibility to care for creation. They will also engage their congregations in environment friendly projects. Crucially, they will be engaging with their local MP's and making it clear how aware they are of the present climate emergency and how they wish the Government to lead the way in making the changes necessary to ensure the future flourishing of life on this planet.

It is so encouraging to see parishes taking part in this important programme. We wish them well and thank them for what they are doing.
