Discover New Ways to Leverage Technology
Participate in Lively Roundtable Discussions
Expand Your Network

The current disruptive business environment demands that companies become forward-thinking and agile. In fact, 96 percent of CEOs in Latin America recently indicated their companies plan to be the disruptors, rather than waiting to be disrupted and 99 percent are implementing or piloting AI in some specific business process. The growth of consumer empowerment is also fueling the desire to implement new technologies which will improve customer expectations for personalized experience.

In light of this disruptive era, the Chilean chapter of WomenCorporateDirectors (WCD) invites you to attend a special networking and educational event.
