YMCA

Several Greenville YMCA locations have opened up to offer childcare services for healthcare workers and first responders. Spaces are limited, so they recommend you register ASAP.

From the YMCA:

Beginning March 30th YMCA of Greenville is offering childcare for Health Care Workers and First Responders. If your family falls into these categories and does not have an option for childcare, you can register with the YMCA. We know many families are stretched right now, however at this time we are only permitted to be open for the purpose of providing childcare to these job categories.

Please see attachment for registration information. If you have any questions, please direct them to Erin Munroe, emunroe@ymcagreenville.org.

Follow the link provided for the childcare site that you want to register.

Click on the register button.

You will need to log into our system. If you are a current member of the YMCA, and you have accessed your online account before, you will select the box on the left and sign in as normal. If you are a current member of the YMCA, and you have not set up your online account before, please select the box on the right to set up an online account.

If you are not currently a member, and you need to set up an account, you will want to select the location where your child will be attending.

- Select the option for potential member.
- Enter all of your current information. You will need to include yourself as the primary adult on the account as well as any children ages 4-12 that need to be added who you will be registering for childcare.
- You will then choose a child that will be participating in the program (you will need to register children one at a time)
- Next, you will select the available days that you want to register for childcare.
- Click next, you will then be asked to add anyone that you would like to be an authorized pick-up for your child. You will need to enter each person's name, email, phone number, and relationship to the child. If one of the authorized people will be picking up your child from the program, they will need to have their drivers license or picture ID in order for the child to be able to leave with them.

- Answer all of the necessary Child Care program questions.
- Read thru and sign the agreements and waivers for the program.

Review your selected registrations and total cost.

If you have any issues with registration, please call us at 864-412-0288 Monday-Friday 9:00am-4:00pm

Keeping Kids Busy

AAP offers constructive ways to keep kids busy at home

The American Academy of Pediatrics has issued a 15-item list to help parents keep children engaged as they spend most of their time at home during the coronavirus outbreak. Suggestions include making a plan for the day to ensure structure, talking with them about dealing with their stress, and taking the time to teach kids useful skills like cooking, gardening and cleaning.

Online School Resources

- Scholastic Courses

Starting Monday, Scholastic is offering learning journeys for grade levels ranging from pre-kindergarten to Grade 9. These activities explore a wide range of subjects, and culminate in reading quests that can be done alone, or with a parent.

- Khan Academy

Khan Academy is a nonprofit educational organization that offers free courses for children and adults at all learning levels. Subjects range from math and grammar, to engineering and art history.

- Raz-Kids

Raz-kids.com offers reading resources for students from kindergarten to Grade 5. Hundreds of online books spanning 29 levels of difficulty are available to kids on the site as part of a 14-day free trial.

- Live Reading (courtesy of Olaf)

Actor Josh Gad, who voices the beloved Olaf in Disney's Frozen, has been sharing videos of himself reading popular children's books on his Twitter page. As part of the #GadBookClub, he's already read stories like Olivia Goes to Venice, The Giving Tree, and Dr. Seuss: Hooray for Diffendoofer Day.

- Kids Activities Blog

Visit Kidsactivitiesblog.com for a collection of educational YouTube channels for kids, dozens of online field trips they can take to different parts of the world, and an exhaustive list of educational organizations offering free subscriptions as a result of school closures.

- Prodigy

Prodigy is a free, curriculum-based math game to help kids refine their analytical skills. Activities

CoolMath4Kids • Designed for children 12 and under, CoolMath4Kids features a range of math lessons and games designed to make the subject entertaining. Kids can also find a variety of quizzes, brain teasers and more throughout the website.

- Busy Toddler

Busy Toddler is a website full of hundreds of fun activities for kids. While geared towards younger children, the page offers ideas for kids up to 12 years old. Exercises include creating a toy washing station, making a literacy bin and designing a comic book.

- At-home Science Experiments

For the mad scientist in your child, here are some suggestions for science experiments that can be done at home, using materials typically found around the house. Ideas range from soap-powered boats and musical straws, to ghost bubbles and instant ice cream. Each idea features a YouTube video demonstrating the experiment as well as a PDF with step-by-step instructions.

- National Geographic for Kids

This website offers a series of adventure games, quizzes, educational videos and more to keep your child entertained and informed. Activities range from educational articles and videos to science experiments and writing your own adventure.

- Free Art lessons

If your child is looking to explore their artistic side, free art lessons are a great option. YouTube channels like Wild Free and Crafty are sharing videos of drawing tutorials, demonstrating how to draw things like donuts and sea turtles. The channel also promises to post arts and crafts ideas that are fun for parents too.

- Lunch Doodles

Looking for other ways to express your creative side? Try a lunch doodle, courtesy of author and illustrator Mo Willems. In a YouTube series, the artist-in-residence at the John F. Kennedy Center for Performing Arts takes viewers into his studio each day for lessons on how to doodle, making arts and crafts, and more.

- Skinnamarink live reading

Sing along with the creators of the popular preschool song “Skinnamarink” through videos posted on Facebook. One of the group’s original members, Sharon, often joined by her daughter, Randi, sing well-known children’s songs that you and your own children can sing along to as well.

For families who do not currently have home internet access, SDPC recommends the following options:

- Charter Spectrum - Charter is offering free Spectrum broadband and Wi-Fi access for 60 days to households with K-12 students who do not already have a Spectrum subscription. To enroll, call 1-844-488-8395.
- Hotspots - during online registration this year, parents were asked to indicate whether they had home internet access. SDPC is in the process of purchasing enough mobile internet hotspots for these families. Eligible parents will receive a separate email to inform them of their eligibility.
- School Parking Lots - Students can access school wifi from some of our school parking lots. Gates to our parking lots will remain open so that students can park on our properties and access school wifi. Students will not be allowed to congregate outside their vehicles. Students seen meeting outside their vehicles will be asked to leave. Students can access wifi in the parking lots of the following schools:
 - Clemson Elementary School (581 Berkeley Dr, Clemson, SC 29631)
 - Easley High School (154 Green Wave Blvd, Easley, SC 29642)

Special Services

Students with IEPs will continue to receive specialized instruction from their special education teachers(s) or therapist(s). During this time at home, it will be of utmost importance for you to stay in close contact with your child's special education teacher and/or therapist. Grades 3rd – 12th will be able to use chromebooks and/or ipads to access digital learning sites. Our younger grades will be receiving printed learning packets to align with IEP goals.

Special education teachers and therapists will be available during their posted hours, and you may e-mail them if you have questions. Until further notice, we will not be offering face-to-face services. Please feel free to notify Special Services at 397-1068 if you need additional assistance.

School Nurses

As we move forward, school nurses will be available during scheduled office hours to communicate with parents and answer questions about student health. If you have questions, please contact your school nurse or Angela R. Watson, BSN, RN | Coordinator of Nursing at 864-397-1048.

Unemployment Help and Job Options

Unemployment Benefits

If you are out of work because of COVID-19 you are eligible for Unemployment Insurance. There is a three-step process to receiving benefits.

1. Apply for benefits
2. Register for work
3. Search for work

To learn more about the claims process visit <https://dew.sc.gov/home/how-do-i-file-an-unemployment-claim>

General Information about UI Benefits and How to File

For individuals who are sick and cannot work, out of work due to a school or daycare closing or caring for a family member with a COVID-related illness, but your employer is open – sick leave or paid time off, according to the company policy, would be the appropriate resource for this time away from work. If a person is out of work due to a business closing, layoff or reduction in hours related to COVID-19, those individuals should file for Unemployment Insurance benefits. Moreover, there may be additional sources of funding for workers and businesses in the federal house bill HR 6201, Families First Coronavirus Response Act. If you are uncertain about your eligibility, you are encouraged to apply for unemployment insurance benefits.

- How do you apply for benefits?
The Unemployment Insurance process is completed through a self-service online portal that can be conducted on any computer with internet connection.
You must first file a claim for state unemployment benefits by visiting www.dew.sc.gov and clicking on the “MyBenefits Login” located at the top right corner of the home page. If you have previously filed for unemployment benefits and remember your credentials, login with your username and password.
If you have previously filed for unemployment benefits and do not remember your credentials, click “forgot username/password” link.

Unemployment Exceptions During COVID-19

Restaurant workers and others who are temporarily out of work because of COVID-19 can receive six weeks of unemployment benefits from the state without having to search for another job, if their employers apply for it.

Employers who have a temporary shutdown, such as South Carolina’s restaurants and bars during the coronavirus crisis, can apply for the benefits for their workers who have been laid off or had their hours cut back. The claim must be submitted after a week of layoff is over but within 14 days of the claim week ending date.

Visit https://dew.sc.gov/docs/default-source/covid-19/coronavirus-and-unemployment-benefits.pdf?sfvrsn=9e21cba5_4 for frequently asked questions about COVID-19
