

Foli Park Bench

The Plano Rotary Club learned that the City of Plano Parks committee was hoping to install new benches in the nine parks throughout Plano in the summer of 2019. As part of their mission to benefit youth, the Rotarians wanted to participate and to help promote donations to improve the city's parks. In a surprising turn of events, Browning, a well-known artist, art instructor, and owner of Arts on Fire in Plano, approached the city to start a public arts project. The Plano Rotary Club committed to purchasing four benches, hoping to hear from other organizations, individuals, and businesses who would want to be part of this project.

Getting involved

There are several options for participating in this ongoing public art project.

Interested individuals, businesses, and organizations can purchase an entire bench or donate to be part of a bench purchase.
