

COLLEGE PROMISE SCHOLARSHIPS MAKE CCBC TUITION-FREE

Expanded eligibility for high school graduates and current CCBC students!

NEW TO CCBC? Here are the eligibility basics for College Promise scholarships:

Baltimore County College Promise Scholarship (last dollar in)	Maryland Community College Promise Scholarship (last dollar in)
Promise for Degree and Certificate Programs • Baltimore County resident and U.S. citizen or an eligible non-citizen; a dependent's parent(s) must be a legal Maryland resident. • Any high school graduate who is a first time College Promise recipient, GED recipient, or external diploma degree graduate. • Adjusted gross household income of $150,000 or less, based on income reported on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). • Submit a copy of your official high school transcript to the CCBC Registrar's Office. • Enroll full time or part time (1 or more credits) at CCBC as a degree- or certificate-seeking student. The scholarship will only cover courses required for declared degree or certificate. • Maintain a cumulative CCBC GPA of 2.3 or higher, if you are a credit-seeking student.	Promise for Degree and Certificate Programs • Maryland resident attending local community college (unless enrolled in a degree or program not offered at the student local community college). A dependent's parent(s) must be a legal Maryland resident. • Maryland high school graduate or GED recipient. High school graduates must have a 2.3 or higher cumulative GPA, if graduated less than 5 years ago. • Submit a copy of your official high school transcript, if graduated less than 5 years ago. • Students who completed high school more than 5 years ago, must complete affidavit. • Adjusted gross household income of $150,000 or less (two-parent household) -OR- $100,000 or less (single-parent household), based on income reported on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). • Students who are not eligible to complete a FAFSA must complete the MHEC One App. • Enroll full time or part time (6 or more credits) at CCBC as a degree- or certificate-seeking student. The scholarship will only cover courses required for declared degree or certificate. • Maintain a cumulative CCBC GPA of 2.5 or higher, if you are a credit-seeking student.

NEW TO CCBC? Here are the eligibility basics for College Promise scholarships:

Baltimore County College Promise Scholarship (last dollar in)	Maryland Community College Promise Scholarship (last dollar in)
Promise for Workforce Training Programs Enroll in a Workforce Training Program and coursework through CCBC’s Continuing Education. • Baltimore County resident and U.S. citizen or an eligible non-citizen. • No FAFSA requirement. • No income requirement. • No high school GPA requirement.	Promise for Workforce Training Programs Enroll in a Workforce Training Program and coursework through CCBC’s Continuing Education. • Maryland resident attending local community college (unless enrolled in a degree or program not offered at the student local community college). A dependent’s parent(s) must be a legal Maryland resident. • Graduate of a Maryland High School or GED recipient. • Submit a copy of your official high school transcript, if graduated less than 5 years ago. • Students who completed high school more than 5 years ago, must complete affidavit. • Adjusted gross household income of $150,000 or less (two-parent household) OR $100,000 or less (single-parent household), based on income reported on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

Rev. 08.24

How do I get started?

- New to CCBC? Contact the Admissions Office at ccbcmd.edu/contactadmissions.
- Apply to CCBC and register for courses right away at ccbcmd.edu/apply.
- Most Promise scholarships start with the Free Application for Federal Student Aid. As a first step, visit FAFSA.gov to submit the FAFSA using CCBC’s school code 002063.
- Complete the CCBC$FundMe Application and Maryland Community College Promise Scholarship Application. Scan QR code to access the Scholarship and Grant Portal.
- For complete application details, visit ccbcmd.edu/collegepromise.
- Eligible for both scholarships? Apply for both!

