Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design (CPTED) Training

The Psychology of Human Interactions with Our Environment
Learn to read and modify the signals our environment sends.

WHAT: CPTED strategies can discourage undesirable behavior and encourage appropriate activity. This interactive, interesting and free training opportunity (which typically costs $600 to $900 per person) offered by PalmettoPride and hosted by Keep the Midlands Beautiful, includes:

- ✓ Clear explanations and examples of the four CPTED strategies of Territorial Reinforcement, Natural Access Control, Natural Surveillance and Maintenance.
- ✓ Techniques for implementing the strategies (i.e. Landscaping, Pavement Treatments, Architecture, Activity Support, Public Art, Lighting)
- ✓ Hands-on experience in applying the concepts via field study.
- ✓ Guidance in conducting a CPTED survey and completing a CPTED report.
- ✓ Resources and continued support as you implement CPTED strategies on your personal or business property and throughout the community.

WHO should attend? Municipal leaders, law enforcement*, city planners*, architects, landscapers, parks department, community revitalization teams, business owners, homeowners, anyone and everyone else, including residents, interested in reducing crime. NOTE: *Law Enforcement Officers receive SC Criminal Justice Academy CLEE Credits and City Planners receive credit from SC Planning Education Advisory Committee.

WHEN: February 7-8, 2023, 8:15 am-5 pm (NOTE: Lunch will be provided by Verde on Day 1) If space is available, those unable to attend entire training may attend morning sessions only.
