

Journals Reviewer Application

Our journals department is recruiting qualified peer reviewers for our 3 journals, published by Taylor & Francis

Please note that as a reviewer, you will be expected to review up to four manuscripts per year per journal, not including manuscripts that need to be re-reviewed. Ad hoc reviewers in good standing are eligible for Editorial Board promotion in the future. Complete this form and send with your CV for consideration to: Journals@ivatcenters.org.

Journal of Aggression, Maltreatment, and Trauma: focuses on information on vital issues surrounding aggression, maltreatment and trauma. Articles published in this journal helps readers learn about new research, how to prevent these behaviors, intervention for those traumatized, and get state of the science strategies for prevention of abusive and violent situations.

Journal of Family Trauma, Child Custody, and Child Development: provides access to the research theories, ideas, commentaries, and experiences of leading experts in the interdisciplinary fields of family psychology, child development, social work, mental health, attachment, child custody, trauma, interpersonal violence and abuse, assessment, parenting, divorce, and other relevant areas.

Journal of Child Sexual Abuse: focuses on child sexual abuse and sexual victimization across the lifespan and advocates for greater dissemination of information and research, treatment, and intervention approaches.
