How to ensure you receive WePromo discounts

There are several ways to ensure you are recognized as a WePromo member, entitled to our company discounts.

First, use the contact information that we provide for each supplier available on the private member site (you get access once you join). With high turnover rates due to the pandemic, new customer service staff may not yet know about WePromo.

When you call in to place an order, tell them you belong to WePromo. If they fail to recognize the membership, ask to speak with a supervisor or contact us.

When you place an order online, use "WePromo" as a coupon code.

When you use an order form, place the WePromo member logo (available here) or write "WePromo Member" on your paperwork.
