

CCP- To Note in January

The steps required to complete the Continuing Competency Program (CCP) are similar to the nursing process. Annually, each nurse must assess their practice, determine their learning needs, develop, and implement a learning plan, and evaluate its impact on their nursing practice.

At this point, you should have completed your self-assessment, identified at least one indicator that you will focus on in 2025, and developed your learning plan. The following resources can assist to plan your CCP activities, and to develop and implement your learning plan:

- CCP Annual Planning Guide
- Five Steps to a Great Learning Plan

For guidance on accessing the CCP components, refer to the Guide to the Continuous Competency Program \(CCP\).
