1 Week to Sine Die; 8 Weeks to the Primary

Voting Rights and Election Integrity

HB1464, the controversial addition to Georgia's election administration, will be discussed by the Senate Ethics committee today. Last week's hearing was postponed because the Georgia Association of Voter Registration and Election Officials was holding its annual conference with election administrators who will be most directly impacted by the law in attendance. Sen. Max Burns (R-23, Sylvania) the committee chair, told members to "bring their jammies," indicating a long meeting in store. If you would like to watch, check the schedule for the Senate Ethics Committee at legis.ga.gov to confirm the time of the meeting. There will be a video icon on the schedule you can click to watch the hearing. Currently, it's scheduled for 4:00 PM but that could change. Contact the Lieutenant Governor at 404-656-5030 and Sen. Max Burns at 404-656-7586 to voice your opposition to this bill only eight weeks before the election primaries.
