Holiday Cheer at the Gaylord Texan Resort

Hold that parka. The Gaylord Texan Resort in Grapevine has announced that ICE!, its popular sub-zero holiday attraction, will not take place this year. Despite the cancellation of ICE!, there will still be plenty of holiday cheer at Gaylord Texan during a set of Christmas events that run November 13 through January 3, 2021 and include snow tubing, ice skating, gingerbread decorating, stories with Mrs. Claus and photo friendly holiday décor placed throughout the resort's 125 acres.

The resort is also adding some new attractions for 2020 including an interactive walk-through exhibit that celebrates favorite holiday films. The new "I Love Christmas Movies" pop-up will feature iconic scenes and memorabilia from 13 holiday movies including National Lampoon's Christmas Vacation, Elf, The Polar Express, A Christmas Story and others.

Tickets on sale now at Christmas.gaylordhotels.com.

Holiday at the Arboretum

Holiday at the Arboretum, presented by Reliant, is Dallas' favorite holiday tradition! Stroll the garden to see the 25-foot-tall elaborately decorated Victorian-style gazebos that represent each of the 12 Days of Christmas. In the evenings, the garden comes to life for a beautiful nighttime experience aglow with over one million lights. Enjoy visits with Santa Claus, entertainment, shopping, food & beverage options and more.

Please Note: Dallas Arboretum's Holiday at the Arboretum is a very popular event and since you must have a timed ticket and choose the day you want to attend you will need to go directly to their website for tickets, at www.dallasarboretum.org. (Conciierge will not have discount tickets.)

Dallas Museums: Now Open

“Art washes away from the soul the dust of everyday life.” - Pablo Picasso

Dallas arts and cultural facilities have been closed since mid-March. Now, eight diverse museums have reopened, and they've worked hard to ensure their patrons and staff can safely visit during this pandemic. Each has COVID-19 safety protocols such as mask requirements and social distancing, and some may have limited hours, timed openings and capacity restrictions. Be sure to visit each museum's website for dates, times and details on all they're doing to keep you safe. And remember, as we embark once again on arts and culture experiences, let's do so with compassion, patience and respect.

Fort Worth Attractions

Where to be Outdoorsy

Fort Worth is home to one of the prettiest and largest trail networks in Texas. Bike, jog, walk, or even roller skate your way through the Trinity Trails, which spans 100 miles of trails connected to 21 parks, downtown Fort Worth, the Stockyards National Historic District, and beyond.

You can also rent a canoe or kayak to explore via the Trinity River, or stay on dry land at the Fort Worth Nature Center and Refuge and watch for deer, bison, armadillo, and prairie dogs in the 3,600-acre center, one of the largest of its kind in the United States.

Drop in at the Fort Worth Botanic Gardens, the oldest botanic garden in Texas, where 109 acres and 23 specialty gardens are home to more than 2,500 species of native and exotic plants. Or visit the No. 1 zoo in the nation, the Fort Worth Zoo, and say hi to 542 different species, 68 of which are endangered or threatened in the wild.

Where to Find Culture

Culture knows no bounds in Cowtown, and you can find lots of it at Fort Worth's impressive museums, which are open with COVID precautions and advance reservations. Explore a variety of Fort Worth museums that are world-famous for their architecture and the quality of their collections. The Fort Worth Cultural District, home to five museums in a relaxing, park-like setting is a great place to start your tour. The Amon Carter Museum of American Art, the Kimbell Art Museum and the Modern Art Museum of Fort Worth are committed to reopening responsibly. Visitors can expect similar precautionary measures to be in effect at each institution.

Snap mind-bendingly beautiful pictures at the Fort Worth Water Gardens, located next to the convention center in downtown. Three distinct pools — aerating, quiet, and active — burble across four acres.

Spend time exploring the Fort Worth Stockyards National Historic District, where the twice-daily cattle drive down Exchange Avenue still happens at 11:30 am and 4 pm. Mule Alley is open and features exciting new shopping and nightlife.

White Rock Lake

For the athletic types, White Rock's nine-mile hike and bike trail is perfect for a family day outdoors and offers plenty of space to spread out. Take in the stunning lakefront views with a to-go pizza from nearby Cane Rosso or juicy barbeque from Smoky Rose. Or do some bird-watching with loved ones at sunset. Snap plenty of pictures, too!

Bishop Arts District

You can easily make an afternoon of strolling the sidewalks of one of the city's trendiest neighborhoods, the Bishop Arts District. If you must pop inside for a few minutes, visit Lula B's to find unique gifts or {neighborhood} to shop handmade goodies. Grab some small plates to-go from Oddfellows and schedule curbside pick-up at Bishop Cider Co. This walkable area makes buying local and supporting a vibrant community so easy!

Lakeside Park

This lush outdoor enclave is nestled in Highland Park and offers lovely walking paths fit for a quaint "family day." With benches around the park, you could stop to read, draw naturescapes or sip some coffee and nibble a pastry from Highland Park Village's Royal Blue Grocery. Fishing is permitted, as are photo ops with the Lakeside Park's giant teddy bear statues, which are sure to get the kids' attention.

Guests must wear a mask to enter Her Majesty's castle. Contactless temperature screening will take place before entering the castle.

- Enjoy the Castle, and please stay at a sword's length from your fellow Royals.
- To create a safe and comfortable environment, each Castle will follow local state guidelines for limited guest capacity.
- Once inside the Grand Ceremonial Arena and ready for feasting, they will ensure a minimum of 6 feet between parties for extra elbow room and rigorous cheering!
- To ensure that you, your friends and your family are booked under the same reservation, please include all guests when booking or contact them at orderhelp@medievaltimes.com to add guests to an existing reservation. Should your group size be larger than local seating restrictions allow, they will provide multiple seating sections adjacent to one another.
- Protect your kingdom by keeping your family together. They've placed markers throughout Her Majesty's halls to remind you about distancing while you explore the Castle.
