Scripture Reflection

Mass Attendance & Participation...

Our 'Dress Rehearsal' for Our Life in Heaven

Because Jesus is truly God, He knew what was in people's hearts when they asked Him, "Rabbi, when did you get here?" He knew the real reason why they were looking for Him. So, He responded to them by saying, "Amen, amen, I say to you, you are looking for me not because you saw signs but because you ate the loaves and were filled."

They were so amazed at Jesus and how He fed them miraculously by multiplying the 5 barley loaves and 2 fish that were brought by a boy in the crowd.

They saw in Jesus someone who could supply them their basic need for nourishment. This meant that they didn't have to work anymore. They have someone who could help them with their material needs.

But Jesus came into this world not to be a "Provider" of material things. He came to lead us all to God. He came to restore us into friendship with God. He came so that we could live for God and not for ourselves, nor for the passing goods of this life. He, The Living Word of God" came down from heaven and became flesh so that He could live among us.

And at every Mass that we celebrate, He comes down from Heaven so that He can live in us when we listen to His Word and when we receive Him sacramentally in Holy Communion.

For this reason, He admonished the people who were looking for Him with these words, "Do not work for food that perishes but for the food that endures for eternal life, which the Son of Man will give you. For on Him the Father, God, has set His seal."

And even after He had already given them the sign, the miraculous multiplication of the loaves, they were still asking Him for a sign when they said to Him, "what sign can you do, that we may see and believe in you? What can you do?"

Jesus answered them, "It was not Moses who gave the bread from heaven: my Father gives you the true bread from heaven. For the bread of God is that which comes down from heaven and gives life to the world."

The people did not believe that Jesus is the Son of God. They did not see Him as the God of Moses. That's why He had to tell them, "This is the work of God, that you believe in the one He sent."

And then at the end of the gospel we hear one of Jesus's "I am" statements, His self-revelation. Jesus said to them, "I am the Bread of Life; whoever comes to me will never hunger, and whoever believes in me will never thirst."

He is our Spiritual Food and Drink who satisfies our soul's basic need for God. He also sanctifies our bodies, making us living tabernacles of God in the world. So that we can truly believe in Him and say, "God lives in us - Emmanuel."

Two things we can learn from the gospel this weekend. First, when we come to Mass, let us come with our hunger for God, believing with the faith that He alone can satisfy all our needs – for He is the Good Shepherd; and because He, Our God is in us, there is nothing that we will want. Second, when we come to Mass, let us come begging Him to feed us, the Spiritual Bread of Life.

Many times, we come asking Him for material wealth and blessings. We should rather ask Him above all to give us His Body and Blood so that we may live in Him and He in us, so that we may live forever with Him in Heaven.

Because our Mass attendance and participation is our "dress rehearsal" for our life in Heaven. -Fr. Robert

JOHN 6:35

GOD PROVIDES

Today's Gospel is a sequel to last week's account of Jesus feeding a large crowd with five barley loaves and a few fish. Here, Jesus is challenging the crowd to see in the bread they have eaten a sign of God's generosity in providing for all the blessings in their lives, as well as the blessing of life itself. The first reading, from Exodus, recounts how the escaped Hebrew slaves were fed in the wilderness, first with quail, then with manna. The psalm is a later reflection on the manna as the bread from heaven and a blessing from God. The selection from the letter to the Ephesians sketches the image of putting away the "old self" and putting on the new, emphasizing that a person's life in Christ needs to differ from their previous life, just as the life of a free person differs from that of a slave.

SIGNS AND WONDERS?

Today's Gospel continues into a second day the narrative that had begun the day before when, after crossing the lake to look for Jesus, a large crowd are fed with five barley loaves and two fish. The following day (today's reading), after more lake crossings, the people who had been miraculously fed are again searching for Jesus. However, they do so (as Jesus puts it) "not because you saw signs, but because you ate the loaves and were filled" (John 6:6).

In John's Gospel, the word "sign" has a distinct meaning. At the wedding at Cana, after telling how Jesus turned water into wine, the Evangelist notes "Jesus did this as the beginning of his signs" that "revealed his glory, and his disciples began to believe in him" (John 2:11). For John, signs are not just wonders to behold; they are about the revelation of God and a response of faith in Jesus.

OR MAYBE THE SIGN IS THE WONDER

When the crowd first arrives, Jesus notes that they had not appreciated the sign that he had already given; they are still focused on their physical hunger. When they ask for a sign, "that we may see and believe in you" (John 6:30), they refer to their ancestors who ate manna in the wilderness. Can Jesus top that? Can he give them more bread that will relieve them of their daily worries about going hungry?

Jesus reminds the crowd that it was not Moses who gave the "bread from heaven," but his Father. Further, the Father can give them the true bread from heaven that comes down and gives life to the world. There is a parallel in the Greek between working for food that perishes and doing the works of God, which is believing in Jesus as the one God has sent. This is the sign that the people missed the day before, the sign that Jesus is pointing out to them.

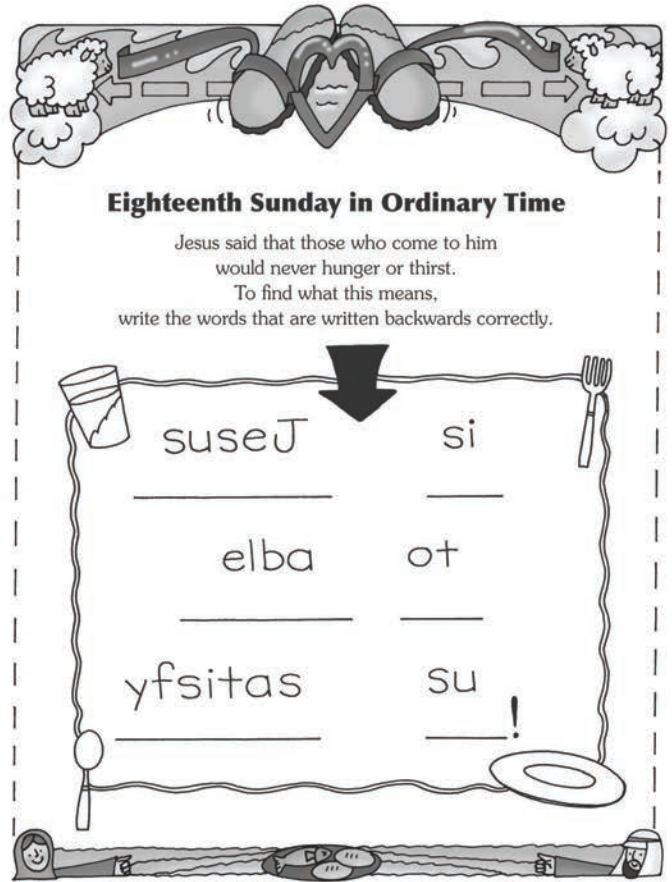

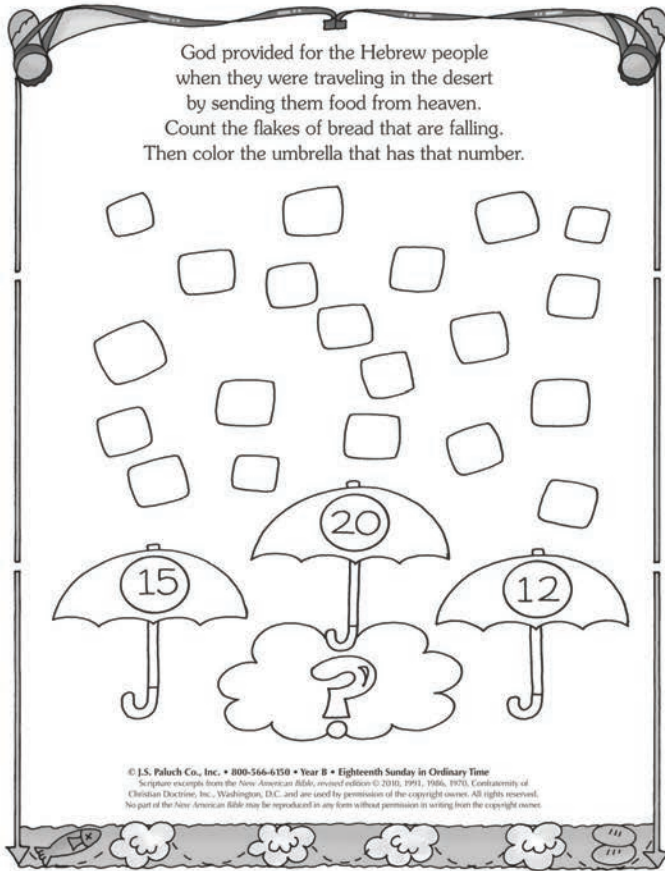

Like the Evangelist, the Church uses the word "sign" for its sacraments. Like the crowd, we are called to see similar "signs" of God's generosity in all the blessings of our lives.

Find out what your children are watching

With movie theaters reopening across the country, now is a great time to add another website to your collection of parenting resources: Catholic News Services' staff reviews movies from a uniquely Catholic perspective, noting things like nudity, swearing, and other problematic themes that have become mainstream in ratings like PG and PG-13.

Parents can vet movies their children are planning to see or may encounter at friends' houses. Talk to your children about what they should do if a friend wants to see a questionable movie, and why you want them to avoid particular films.
