

Food Connects Food Hub Storage Services Information Sheet

The Food Connects Food Hub is a nonprofit wholesale food distributor committed to strengthening the regional food system and beyond. We provide access to source-identified, locally and regionally produced food, develop new markets for vendors, and help small and medium-sized vendors access wholesale markets, all while contributing to a vibrant local economy.

In addition to distribution services, FCFH offers third-party storage for hire services at our facility in Brattleboro, Vermont.

Note that our storage program is not self-storage and product in our storage program may only be handled by trained FCFH operations personnel until released.

For inquiries regarding storage at the Food Connects Food Hub facility please contact the warehouse team:
