Designed by the world-renowned golf architecture team of Bill Coore and Ben Crenshaw, the Saguaro Course at We-Ko-Pa is a desert golf experience unlike any other. Integrating design elements not commonly found in the desert, the course is built for walking and has more in common with older, more traditional courses where greens are close to tees and the course follows the natural movement of the land. The Saguaro Course was named Arizona's best public course you can play by Golfweek 11 of the last 12 years.
