

Leigh Sapir is Senior Counsel at Thrivent in its Asset Management Law department. In this role she provides legal advice for private equity investments and real estate investments, with a specific focus on middle market buyout funds and direct co-investments. Prior to joining Thrivent, Leigh worked for Sullivan & Worcester LLP in its private investment funds practice group, where she primarily represented institutional investors and funds of funds in both domestic and offshore investments in private equity funds, real estate investment funds, co-investments and joint ventures. Leigh also practiced law in Tel Aviv, Israel, representing Israel's largest insurance companies in their private equity fund investments, and clerked at the Israeli Supreme Court

Leigh has a B.A. in political science and international relations from University of Southern California, and a J.D. from Northeastern University, School of Law.