

David Yu is the Global Head of Workouts at MetLife. Mr. Yu has extensive experience managing distressed investments arising out of corporate turnarounds, restructurings, and insolvencies. Since 2001, he has restructured distressed private and public corporate debt across a variety of industries, as well as municipal and sovereign debt. He has served on numerous creditor committees, including for Lehman Brothers, the largest bankruptcy in history. Mr. Yu received his MBA from New York University's Stern School of Business where he was a Dean Scholar. He received his JD from Boston University School of Law and BA from Harvard University.