Research Discussion with NCAC forensic Interviewer Kim Madden

The article titled "How Children Talk About Events: Implications for Eliciting and Analyzing Eyewitness Reports" written by Sonja P. Brubacher will be reviewed and discussed by National Children's Advocacy Center Forensic Interviewer, Kim Madden. Kim has 24 years of interviewing experience and this article is what she refers to as her "Swiss Army Knife" of forensic interviewing. This research article sites many sources of research and will give forensic interviewers the proper tools to have when interviewing children. Forensic Interviewers should read this article prior to attending this discussion, and have prepared questions about real life application for our expert.
