

Nominations Are Open!

With East Carolina's Diocesan Convention scheduled for February 7, 8 and 9, 2019, it is time to invite nominations for a variety of diocesan ministries to be filled at convention.

Please review this information carefully as our nomination process has changed. This year, it is our goal to publish the Convention Reporter early in December. To that end, names will be received until Thursday, November 1st. At that time, if additional nominations are needed, the Nominating Committee will solicit these from around the diocese. Nominations will remain open until the time of convention, but names submitted after the November 1st deadline will not be included in the Convention Reporter.

Go to <http://www.ecdio.org/2019-convention-nominations.html> for nomination information and descriptions of offices open.
