

About the Rev'd Nathan Finnin

Nathan was born in Boston but grew up in Wilmington, North Carolina, where he was a member of Church of the Servant. He attended UNC Chapel Hill, where he entered the ordination process, and went on to graduate divinity school at Yale University. He was ordained in the Diocese of East Carolina, and did his curacy at St. Mary's, Kinston where he met his wife Kaitlin. Since leaving the diocese, Nathan has served as chaplain to Canterbury School, and most recently as an associate rector at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, both in Greensboro. Nathan and Kaitlin have two boys, Beckett, age 5, and Oliver, 10 months, and a 10-year-old English Bulldog.
