

With Gratitude, A Farewell From the Wennerbergs

Wherever He Leads

Some places become more than a part of your life - they leave a lasting mark on your heart and shape the person you become. For us, Lake Beauty Bible Camp has been that place.

As kids, we both came to LBBC regularly for summer camp. At age 14, Teirrah gave her life to Christ in the gym during a U-Turn chapel, while Grant learned what it meant to devote his life to Christ in a breakout seminar at age 13. Camp gave us tools to grow in our faith throughout the years. Like so many young adults, working on summer staff also taught us important life skills, such as how to mop floors, do dishes, and clean toilets - all with a smile! Camp taught us to choose joy wherever we are serving.

When we began our professional careers, we thought our time working at LBBC ended with our final summer as summer staff. However, God invited us back to take on directing roles for Solid Rock School of Discipleship. Five years later, we are incredibly grateful for the opportunities we've had, and most of all, the people we've met.

During our time, we have walked through many transitions: the passing of Brian Alnes, the discontinuation of Solid Rock School of Discipleship, leadership changes, personal role changes, and the birth of a new internship program. We have had a front-row seat to God's faithfulness and provision, in both times of crisis and times of plenty. It has been clear to us that God cares deeply about this place and has set it apart for his ministry on Earth.

While our careers have shifted over the years, so has our family. God has blessed us with two children, Louisa (3) and Russell (1). As we seek to be faithful to God and present parents to our children, we have felt God inviting us to step away from the ministry of Lake Beauty Bible Camp.

What's next? We don't really know. As of right now, God hasn't clearly invited us into a new season or a new place. We simply know that this door is closing. While the waiting is uncomfortable, we feel a deep urge to be obedient. Some days, we feel like the Israelites wandering in the wilderness—unsure of what's next or how long it will take to get there. But even in the uncertainty, we have a deep peace knowing that God's presence is with our family every step of the journey. We don't know what comes next, but we trust the One who does.

We are deeply grateful to you, the LBBC community, for the love and support we have received. We ask for your prayers as we consider what is next, and we assure you that our prayers for LBBC's development will continue even after our departure.

In Christ name,
Grant and Teirrah Wennerberg
