"A Place Set Apart"

These words mean different things to different people. A place involves more than a physical place but also a time and attitude that is different than the routine and usual. Many people experience God at Lake Beauty Bible Camp (LBBC). Some have received Christ here (at least 67 this past summer, and notably my pastor, Brian Zahasky, on the front steps of cabin 15 in June 1989). Others have rededicated their lives to God (more than 400 this past summer) and others have met God in unique ways. I have had the opportunity to experience God here at LBBC since filling in the gap as the interim executive director. If you ask me I can share more about my personal journey in this area. I also would invite you to share with me how LBBC has been a place set apart for you - where the heart, and body and soul of every guest can encounter the living God.
