

Help prevent opioid overdoses among adults 60+ in the Tampa Bay Area!

Looking for:

Professionals with insights identifying, preventing, and treating overdose among adults 60+

About the Study (IRB# 009170)

Live Tampa Bay and USF are launching a research study to understand why adults 60+ in the Tampa Bay Metropolitan Statistical Area (Hillsborough, Pasco, Pinellas, Polk, Manatee, Sarasota, Citrus, and Hernando counties) are experiencing fatal opioid overdoses—and to identify the most effective strategies to prevent them.

Are You:

- ▶ A professional working in one of the following roles?
 - » CEOs and executive leaders of organizations
 - » Geriatric, emergency, and pharmacy care providers
 - » Pain management specialists
 - » Public health and consumer protection professionals
 - » Medical examiner representatives
 - » Law enforcement, EMS, or first responder professionals
 - » Behavioral healthcare providers
 - » Older adult service/advocacy organization representatives
 - » Substance misuse prevention or treatment professionals
- ▶ Working in Hillsborough, Pasco, Pinellas, Polk, Manatee, Sarasota, Citrus, and/or Hernando counties?

What is Involved?

- ▶ Step 1: Complete a 15-minute online survey
- ▶ Step 2 (Optional): Join a 90-minute focus group or a 30-minute individual interview via Zoom

Why Participate?

- ▶ Share your expertise to improve opioid prevention and treatment services for adults 60+
- ▶ Contribute to developing data-driven overdose prevention interventions
- ▶ Help reduce barriers, gaps, and risks that lead to fatal overdoses in your community

How do I participate?

Contact Nik Lampe, Ph.D.

Text/call: (813) 485-5520

Email: CBSC-SupportingSeniors@usf.edu

