THE BRIDGE CLINIC

The USF BRIDGE Clinic is a student-run free clinic serving uninsured adults in Tampa. Social work students provide assessments, counseling, and resource referrals to address psychosocial needs and connect patients with community support.

DONATION DRIVE

The BRIDGE Clinic Donation Drive is launching in response to direct feedback from the individuals and families we serve. Recent patient surveys identified the greatest needs as household essentials, non-perishable food items, hygiene and personal care products, and school supplies. Your donation can make an immediate and meaningful impact on families in our community. Join us in coming together to provide practical support and help meet these essential needs.

IN-PERSON DRIVE

Drop-off locations will be available across campus, including the College of Public Health, the College of Behavioral and Community Sciences, and the USF Health Morsani College of Medicine. Every donation helps support families in our community by providing essential resources and spreading care, compassion, and connection where it is needed most.
