A PUBLICATION FOR BAYSTATE HEALTH TEAM MEMBERS

Sheldrick Streete, MBA, BSN, RN, NEA-BC, CNOR

Chief Operating Officer, Baystate Medical Center & Vice President, Hospital Operations, Baystate Health

1. Most rewarding aspect of working in healthcare:

It is the positive imprint that we leave on people's lives. It is not often we see people at the most joyous moments of their lives. When we are there for them when others cannot assist, it can leave a long-standing impression. I believe we can make that imprint a positive one.

2. Share an interesting fact people would be surprised to know about you:

I was born and grew up in Florida. My winter downtime was mostly spent with my grandparents who were farmers, and we made sugar cane syrup November through January.

3. Best advice you've received?

Relationships matter. Take time to cultivate them, and value each one you develop.
