CONNECTICUT LITERACY CONFERENCE

From Connection to Impact:

Creating Stronger Early Literacy Outcomes Together

CT Literacy Conference

Save the date, and be a part of Connecticut's literacy momentum!

Thursday, October 29, 2026

Central Connecticut State University
1615 Stanley Street
New Britain, CT 06050

Mark your calendars! Join educators and literacy leaders from across Connecticut on October 29, 2026, for a dynamic day dedicated to advancing literacy achievement for students grades kindergarten through five (K–5).

Hosted in partnership by Connecticut State Department of Education's Center for Literacy Research and Reading Success, Central Connecticut State University, and University of Connecticut, this statewide conference will showcase Connecticut's K–5 literacy journey.

Participants will engage in interactive sessions and collaborative discussions focused on evidence-based literacy teaching and learning.

Whether you are a teacher, reading specialist, interventionist, literacy coach, school or district leader, or higher education partner, this conference offers an opportunity to connect with colleagues, celebrate progress, share evidence-aligned literacy practices, and strengthen our collective efforts to ensure every student becomes an independent and proficient reader.

More information about registration and conference programming will follow.
