WOMEN OF TOMORROW ALUMNAE NETWORK

What is the Women of Tomorrow Alumnae Network?

The Women of Tomorrow (WOT) Alumnae Network was formally established in February 2022. Since 1997, 26,000 mentees in South Florida and Metro Detroit have participated in our program. We are searching for all WOT Alum to connect to our network and be a part of the amazing community of the next generation of female leaders.

Enhancing Professional and Personal Development:

Our network is dedicated to enhancing the professional and personal development of our graduates. Now in our 28th year, thousands of high school girls are leading successful lives because of the Women of Tomorrow Mentor & Scholarship Program. Through our alumnae engagement platform, WOT Connect, we have located over 6000 graduates and are providing them with the resources they need. We offer jobs, networking opportunities, mentorship, community events, and more. This platform serves as a central hub for alumnae to connect, collaborate, and continue their professional and personal growth journey.

1. Networking Opportunities
2. Career Guidance
3. Mentorship
4. Support

We invite corporations to partner with us and empower our graduates through the Women of Tomorrow Alumnae Network. By collaborating, your company can:

- Support women's professional development, mentorship, and networking
- Invest in future leaders with resources for career growth
- Showcase commitment to gender equality and diversity
- Access top talent from our alumnae network
- Enhance brand visibility by aligning with our mission
- Post jobs, services, and products on our platform for visibility and engagement

Contact us to explore partnership opportunities! Together, we can make a lasting difference in the lives of our Women of Tomorrow Alumnae.

ABOUT WOMEN OF TOMORROW

The Women of Tomorrow Mentor and Scholarship Program (WOT) provides pathways out of poverty for minority, low-income and at-risk high school students through a unique and effective mentoring model in South Florida and Metro Detroit. The program was created in 1997 when its founders realized the critical needs these young women were facing, and the tools required to become successful, self-sustaining, and self-reliant members of society. The mission was and remains clear - engage highly accomplished professional women as mentors who will share their knowledge, expertise and support to provide students with the skills necessary to reach their personal and professional goals. All mentoring activities are conducted in small group settings, during school hours and in partnership with public school systems.

Now in our 28th year and with 26,000 mentees impacted, the WOT Board, staff, and mentors have driven the growth, evolution, and success of the program. This year's 98% high school graduation rate amongst our at-risk population showcases the power of the program - a rate substantially higher than at-risk students nationally who face similar inequities and challenges. 96% of this year's seniors are now also going on to higher education. When at-risk young women have a trusted mentor, they are empowered to be their own best advocate and their future potential is unlimited. Additionally, WOT has provided nearly $9 million in scholarships to help our young women reach their goals. Learn more at www.womenoftomorrow.org.
