Student Leadership

13 November 2020

Hello SPN families!

For one, we would like to remind you that this is the last week we will be accepting donations for our 2020 SPN Wildfire Project. This Thursday the 19th is the final day. We thank you for your generosity and willingness to support us and our fundraising efforts.

Secondly, we have another fun service learning event approaching. Friday, November 20th is World Children's Day! We hope that this occasion will inspire our young students, for they will soon lead our world as the next generation.

The well-known foundation, UNICEF, is spreading awareness of child rights in multiple methods. One of them is "Turning the World Blue." Landmarks across the globe will be glimmering blue lights in acknowledgement. As for us here at SPN, we aim to see all Spartans wearing blue in show-case of our support, and to represent our community.

Any artistic souls who enjoy expressing themselves? Well, UNICEF is doing more. It is called the Illustration Challenge. In this challenge kids can draw the type of world they hope to live in, whether it's one free of discrimination, one that's sustainable with greener resources, or anything that addresses other issues important in the artist's eyes. Then add #voicesofyouth and show it off for the world to see! It's a great way to show the creative minds and vivid imaginations of our SPN student body. If you are eager to share your art, take a picture of you holding it up in your blue attire. Then, email them to jschmitz@csdo.org. Who knows? You may get recognized or end up on the school newsletter/website.

We thank you for your time, whether it's for donating, or for drawing in honor of World Children's Day. It means so much to us that you can contribute to helping us make our world a better place. Have an amazing day!

Sincerely,

Your SLC Service Learning Commissioners, Kalia and Sammie :)
