Plants aren't just pretty...

Here's just a few of the economic, environmental, and health benefits of plants.

Job creation from increased services demanded

Improves relationships/compassion

Reduces storm water runoff

Increased property values

Therapeutic effects of gardening

Enhanced learning capacity

Generates tourism revenue

Reduces health care cost

Attracts wildlife and promotes biodiversity

Improved concentration and memory retention

Beautification draws customers and reduces shopping stress

HOFFMAN NURSERY

Source: Dr. Charlie Hall, Texas A&M University