FREE ARTS! Family Days

Weird Science FEATURING ARTIST JIM HAMMOND

Join us as we experience our version of weird science during the Art and Culture Center/Hollywood's monthly STEAM-themed Free Arts! Family Day. Jump into your own scientific adventure as you create a storyline that involves different characters, gooey materials, and super smart scientists. Alongside artist Jim Hammond, participants will have an opportunity to design a puppet character based on the story the attendee creates. This hands-on activity allows families to experience the fun of science, art and literacy together as a team.

Event includes free admission to the family-friendly exhibition Personify featuring works by Jeanne Jaffe, Pablo Cano, Jim Hammond, and many other artists in our contemporary galleries.
