June Activity with Guest Artist Antonia Wright: Cyanotypes

Did you know you can take a picture without using a camera? Cyanotype is a simple printing process that makes brilliant blue images after being exposed to light! This STEAM-based activity is inspired by Antonia Wright's work in the exhibition Artists + Identity on view at the Center. Learn how to make these unusual blueprint images with the Miami-based artist.

Sunday, June 20, 2021
Gallery Open: noon - 4 pm

Free Arts! includes free admission to our galleries.
