

Rosh Hashanah Sept. 19-20 Yom Kippur Sept. 28

Never a better time!

The High Holy Days are approaching, and yes, we are prepared.

There has never been a better time to embrace holiness. The more the world has challenged us, the stronger we Jews have responded. Jewish history has taught us over generations that unforeseen and challenging times have required a deeper and stronger commitment to our people, our values and traditions. 2020 is no exception.

During this month of Elul, we are giving you the tools to choose how you will engage, how will you invest yourself in preparing for sacred time and space.

Im Ein Ani Li, Mi Li - (Week 1) If I am not for myself, who is for me? - How do I show up for myself?

Uchsheni Leatzmi, Ma Ani - (Week 2) But if I am for myself, what am I? - Who do I need to be more present for?

(Week 3) And if I am for myself, what am I? - How do I want to show up this year?

V'im Lo Achshav, Eimatai - (Week 4) And if not now, when? -What is standing in my way?

We are also creating a PJTC App with daily kavanot and intentions, a New Year's greeting card and recorded messages, pre-recorded rabbi's teachings and cantor's prayer previews, teshuvah activities, tashlich opportunities, and much more.

We recognize the reality of this years' High Holy Day celebration and we are preparing a first day of Rosh Hashanah service that will be very different from what we've done before. The service will be shorter and will highlight the most important aspects of the season. On the second day of Rosh Hashanah we will navigate the Machzor with a more traditional approach. Listening to the feedback from our July experiments, we learned that our congregation has diverse spiritual needs, and we are committed to meeting you where you are, lifting all our spirits together.

For all our services, we will make sure that you are able to follow and participate in our services by providing PDF's of our Machzorim, and if needed, we'll drop off prayer books for families who request them.

May this season be invigorating, spiritually uplifting and may it bring us closer to our loved ones and our community.

Shanah Tovah, for a good year!

Rabbi Carrier's Letter to the Congregation

Dear friends,

Four times a year Jews around the world gather (whether physically or virtually) to say one of our most powerful and emotionally challenging prayers: Yizkor.

In the first sentence of this prayer we ask God to remember the soul of a loved one who has left this world. The very next sentence of the Yizkor prayer is a pledge to give tzedakah to help perpetuate the ideals of the person we mourn.

I've often said to people one of the kindest things you can do for your loved ones while you're still alive is to plan ahead and make your own final arrangements. This way they won't have to make those decisions in the midst of their own grief at the moment of your passing. I've learned this the hard way, seeing uncertainty and arguments among families (including in my own family) at a time when we are least prepared to make those decisions.

In my mind, this kindness you can do from beyond this life extends to specifying your strongest-held ideals you wish to perpetuate, as described in the Yizkor prayer. For many people these ideals include strengthening the foundation of their Jewish community so that it can continue to meet the needs of their children and grandchildren.

If this is important to you, we ask you to consider including PJTC in your estate plan as a member of our Ohr Tamid ("Eternal Light") Society. If you are interested, please let us know by reaching out to our Executive Director Beryl Strauss at 626-798-1161 or beryl@pjtc.net, and all your questions will be answered.

There's a story from the Talmud (Ta'anit 23a) you may have heard before:

One day, Honi the Wise was walking along the road when he saw a certain man planting a carob tree. Honi said to him: This tree, after how many years will it bear fruit? The man said to him: It will not produce fruit until seventy years have passed. Honi said to him: Is it obvious to you that you will live seventy years, that you expect to benefit from this tree? The man said to him: That man himself found a world full of carob trees. Just as my ancestors planted for me, I too am planting for my descendants.

Please consider planting your carob tree alongside your fellow members of the Ohr Tamid Society so that future generations will enjoy the fruit of PJTC for years to come.

With blessings of health and peace,

Rabbi John Carrier

Board Report

The Board of Directors met on July 27 via Zoom to hear details about High Holy Day planning, which will be held virtually this year in response to the congregant survey and current state regulations. The clergy team said it is committed to making it the best virtual experience it can be and will offer options to congregants along with the traditional livestream services.

The Board heard a report from Andrea Mark, chair of the Social Justice Committee, who detailed the recently held and upcoming programs and presented an action list for future collaboration. A small working group will review the action list and make recommendations.

The Board approved a budget for the Planned Giving Program being implemented by Jack Singer and his committee for $3,500. The committee is working on a set of policies and procedures for the program as well as mailings, publicity and informational programs.

Other expenditures the Board approved included a $7,000 budget to a company that will develop a b'nai mitzvah program template to run virtually using Zoom and livestream services and for the purchase of two cameras for Knell Chapel. This will enable the planned b'nai mitzvot to occur as scheduled until the simchas can once again be celebrated in person. A technician or staff member will be required each weekend of a b'nai mitzvah to ensure it operates smoothly. The Board also approved the purchase of a sound mixer at a cost of nearly $7,000 to replace the one currently broken in the sanctuary.

Ohr Tamid Society Testimonial

By: Barbara Levinson

It was post 9/11 and Bob and I were a little shell shocked. We agreed, this was a watershed moment and we needed to share it Jewishly.

From the moment we walked through the PJTC front doors we were welcomed and invited to partake. Congregants approached us with friendly conversation. The first person to greet us was of course, Edie. Edie, now in her 90's, is often still the very first person to greet a new face. From the start we were offered ways to get involved and ways to learn and ways to pray. No pressure. People wanted to get to know us.

We started attending Friday night services. Bob was brought up in a Conservative Jewish household. My family was non-observant but we regarded ourselves as Reform. We were Jews, no question and after 9/11, even more so.

It didn't take long to know that this was where we belonged. I joined Sisterhood and Bob helped to found the Men's Club. Never before in my life had I been so active in any temple, let alone to join a Sisterhood. I had always thought this sort of thing was not for me. Then, I found myself president of the Sisterhood of PJTC. What a stunning reversal for a woman who had never belonged let alone been a president of anything. After two terms as Sisterhood president, I retired, and became active in other areas of the synagogue. Bob and I sponsored several Jewish musical programs and helped in various ways with fund raisers. We made friends and socialized and our social center became PJTC. I kept on writing my poetry and volunteering, while Bob stayed very active in the Men's Club. Life was good.

Hind sight is perfect. Now I see the little tell-tale symptoms, but at the time, all I knew was that my husband was getting angry. Bob fell in the bathroom. He couldn't get up. After two days in the acute care hospital they sent him to a second-rate convalescent hospital without my knowledge. I knew we needed to get him out of there ASAP. So, with the help of the PJTC Men's Club we commandeered a wheelchair, brought him to a waiting car and spirited him to Huntington Memorial Hospital, where Bob's doctor had privileges. The Men's Club still talks about the day we all - Jeff, Joel, Jim, and I, hijacked Bob Levinson A.M.A. and drove him to Huntington. The rabbi came and sat with me, countless friends came to visit. Ultimately his doctor, who is a synagogue member, assisted in transferring Bob to an appropriate convalescent hospital.

Our PJTC friends, staff and clergy were always there for us. Bob died surrounded by PJTC family and friends who brought him his favorite Irish Music and klezmer C.D.s. And PJTC was always there for me when I felt the most alone. Our friends even offered their home, which is closer to the temple, for Shiva when Bob passed.

Now, six years later, we are in the midst of a pandemic. But as isolated as I may feel, my synagogue is here providing support, calling to make sure I'm okay, giving sustenance as a friend, and as a Jew offering spiritual guidance. It is in this tight-knit community that I continue to find meaning, and celebrate being Jewish. I am now a proud charter member of the Ohr Tamid Society, a group designed to promote the legacy of insuring a "more vibrant Jewish future for all our children and our children's children." This is truly a Jewish community at it's best. I cannot imagine not being a member of this Synagogue. PJTC is named in my in my heart and in my estate.

Social Justice Committee

by Carl Selkin, Committee Member

Calling for Voter Registration

Expect a call from The Social Justice Committee to answer any questions you may have about voter registration and vote by mail. We hope every member will be responsive as we aim toward 100 % voting by our PJTC community. Between now and the beginning of early voting in October, watch for our Zoom meetings with the League of Women Voters and other nonpartisan organizations to learn about what is at stake on the November ballot.

Turn out the Vote

The Social Justice Committee is asking our community members to get active in turning out the vote—nationally as well as locally. We encourage you to participate in one of the many organizations working to make sure that all who are eligible to vote can vote. In many areas, requirements to maintain or renew registration is confusing or difficult, especially for the elderly, poor, and people of color. Rural, disabled and many urban voters as well face problems accessing polling places or acquiring mail-in ballots. Reclaim our Vote sign up here and When We all Vote sign up here are two organizations that are doing this good work.

John Lewis: Good Trouble—the Webinar

350 people from all over the area and across the nation registered for our July 12 panel discussion. Expertly moderated by PJTC political maven Professor Peter Dreier, the creative team that brought us the feature documentary-- Dawn Porter (Director) and Laura Michalchysyn (Producer)-- joined panelists Heather Booth and Jessica Pierce (organizers and activists in the tradition of John Lewis) for an inspiring 90 minutes about their lives and continuing the legacy of John Lewis and the civil rights movement.

Those who registered will receive an electronic copy of the Good Trouble Handbook and additional information on countering voter suppression.

Please join us, not only for the events but also for our meetings—every other Sunday (usually) at 9:30 a.m. Our August meetings are scheduled for August 2 and 23. For the Zoom link email us at sjcPJTC@gmail.com. There are no dues. Here is the Social Justice Committee mission:

To respond to societal conditions and contemporary issues based on traditional Jewish values and the prophetic admonition--Tzedek, tzedek tirdofe, Justice, justice shall you pursue.

Men's Club

by Fred Rotenberg, President

Hello PJTC,

As the incoming President of the PJTC Men's Club, I would like to thank immediate past President Erich Schlect and the past board members for a great year of gatherings, programs, remembrances and tributes. While pandemically challenged these past 5 months, the enthusiasm to come up with new and effective programs hasn't waned.

If you are new to the PJTC community, Welcome! We'd love to have you as a member. Men's Club is open to all genders, so please follow this link <https://pasadenajewishtempleandcenter.shulcloud.com/mens-club.html>: to find out who we are and what we do. In a nutshell, through dues and fundraising we provide financial assistance to youth programs affiliated with PJTC and the local Jewish Federation, support PJTC programs, educate and entertain through our programming and promote camaraderie and social well-being. Also, given the financial burden the pandemic has placed upon so many, 2020-21 MEMBERSHIP IS FREE!

Several upcoming programs via Zoom should garner great interest. I hope you joined the first one on Zoom on July 30 which featured a commercial airline pilot who shared safe travel tips during the pandemic including booking, pre-planning, hotel stays, traveling with children, traveling as a "senior" and plenty of anecdotes from his 30 years in the cockpit.

Our second program will be on August 13, 2020 and will feature Drs. Stuart Miller and Jonathan Weisz discussing how practicing medicine during the pandemic from the perspective of an internist and a pediatrician has changed, and what you might expect on an office visit. Both programs are presented in conjunction with the PJTC Thursday night Social Hall.

Later in August we'll be presenting a ZOOM program we call "So you Want to Own a Comedy Club." Our featured guest will be Bob Fisher, the proprietor of Pasadena's legendary comedy club, The Ice House. Bob will regale us with the history of the club and inside stories about the stars (before they were stars) that graced the stages. We can all use a good chuckle and this is guaranteed to draw a laugh or two.

Men's Club Board meetings are held on the first Monday of each month. Zoom on in with us. Check out the notices in the FLAME and in the weekly eBlast. Hope to see you at all of our events.

Shalom.

Fred Rotenberg

Torah Fund

By: Bobbi Sloan VP Torah Fund

The 2020-2021 Torah Fund Campaign has begun. This year's theme is B'Yachad, which means Together. It signifies the joy of Sisterhood members working together year-round to make important contributions to the Jewish community through our volunteer efforts at synagogues across the United States and Canada. Our pride in being Jewish shows in everything we do. We are high achievers in our professional and personal lives, and we accomplish even more together!

Education is one of the most important means of transferring the wealth of tradition from one generation to the next. When you contribute to Torah Fund, you are investing in the future of our children: an investment that pays the best interest! Torah Fund supports the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York, the Zeigler School of Rabbinic Studies in Los Angeles, the Schechter Institute of Jewish Studies in Israel, the Seminario Rabinico Latinoamericano in Buenos Aires, and the Zacharias Frankel College in Potsdam, Germany.

This year I will be mailing all the Torah Fund pin/pendants to those of you who become Benefactors ($180.00 donation) or above. I am grateful for your past donations and hope for your continued generosity. Have a safe and healthy year.

L'Shana Tova.
