FIRST SCRIPTURE Philippians 4:3-7

COMMUNAL PRAYER

Holy One, we come before You with open hearts, seeking courage in our moments of fear. We call upon Your wondrous name and seek that You grant us strength to face challenges boldly. Remind us this beautiful day that through You, Your Spirit, and Your Son, we can walk through life on solid ground. Fill us with Your comforting presence as we strengthen our trust in You. Help us to rise above our anxieties, knowing Your unfailing love will carry us always. We pray in Your faithful and fearless name, Amen.

*PRAYER OF CONFESSION & PARDON

Holy and Courageous God, we come before You now, standing in the shadow of Your Word. We admit that it is easier to listen to a sermon about fearlessness than it is to live it. We confess that we are often paralyzed by the opinions of others and gripped by the fear of not having 'enough.' We have built walls where You told us to build bridges. We have kept our hands closed in self-protection when You called us to open them in sacrifice. Forgive us, we pray for choosing the certainty of the shore over the adventure of the deep waters where You lead. Pour Your perfect love into the cracks of our broken confidence, and ignite a holy boldness within us. May we leave this place walking not by sight, but by the fierce and steady light of Your Spirit. Amen.
