NOTES FOR FALL 2020 INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

- Courses with more than 100 students will not be allowed to meet face-to-face.

- Course meeting times must stay the same as when students originally enrolled. Courses moving to an online format will either be scheduled at the same time or for asynchronous instruction.

- If instructional method is changed, all currently enrolled students will be removed from the course for the instructional method to be updated in the system (Banner) and then all students will be re-enrolled in the course. This change will later be documented on the record of all enrolled students.

- Instructors are encouraged to contact students prior to the first day of class to provide instruction on the specifics of the class schedule.
