

The C'ville Sing Out

The C'ville Sing Out is back this summer, by popular demand! The date is Saturday August 10th. We will be singing at the Pavilion on the Charlottesville Downtown Mall at 4 pm (rehearsal will begin at 10 am at The Martin Luther King, Jr. Performing Arts Center at Charlottesville High School).

FREE Parking is available in the Downtown parking garages for the event and at CHS for the rehearsal.

We will take online registrations at www.CvilleSingOut.org beginning after July 1. The price is just $5 (to cover costs of music and folders). Scholarships are available. In-person registration will be held at Mt. Zion First African Baptist Church on Lankford Avenue in Charlottesville, as well.

The City of Charlottesville and Unity Days will co-sponsor with us this year: Unity Days is a series of city-sponsored and community-driven events and programs that educate, inspire, and honor people in our community to move towards economic and racial justice.

The Mission of The Cville Sing Out!

The Charlottesville community continues to heal from the events of August 11 and 12, 2017. As terrible as those events were, they do not define us.

The people of Charlottesville believe in the beauty of inclusivity, diversity, and equality, and are working passionately to restore harmony in our community through love, shared experiences and positive good deeds. We, the organizers of the annual Martin Luther King, Jr. Community Choir/C'ville Sing Out!, believe Charlottesville is defined by the people who live here. So, our efforts are made to bring people together in unity and song.

That is why on August 10th of this year, we are holding our second year of the group singing event called "The C'ville Sing Out!" Everyone in our community is invited to participate in a positive musical celebration of our town to promote love and brotherhood among all races, cultures, & beliefs. We will take back the original date of August 2017 and show the world what our wonderful city is truly all about.

The C'ville Sing Out! will be held at 4:00PM on August 10, 2019, at the Pavilion, at the east end of the Downtown Mall. There will be a rehearsal from 10 am-12 noon at The Martin Luther King Performing Arts Center of Charlottesville High School.

Everyone is invited and welcome to sing – or just listen -- and enjoy the harmonies of our hometown intercultural celebration. Based on the 700+ singers from last year and the interest we've already received from numerous local community groups and organizations, we anticipate a turnout numbering over 1000. We will have special guest artists as well.

TBA soon.
