

Central Contra Costa Solid Waste Authority

SCS ENGINEERS

RecycleSmart has contracted with SCS Engineers, Inc. to conduct a survey with the goal of implementing a voluntary 'Edible Food Recovery Pilot Program' for local businesses.

This voluntary program is to help prepare businesses for upcoming regulatory changes brought in by Senate Bill 1383, which will impose food waste reduction requirements on businesses.

Representatives from SCS Engineers will be reaching out to and visiting businesses throughout the month of February to gauge the community's interest in supporting edible food recovery. This program will help feed those in need, while reducing the environmental impacts of edible food waste and our community's reliance on landfills.

SCS Engineers and RecycleSmart are looking for leaders in the business community to help get this program off the ground, and are seeking input from any businesses that would like to join in this effort.

This pilot program will help move us toward a culture of efficiency, equity and responsibility, with local businesses leading the way to ensure that Central Contra Costa is an example to the Bay Area and California!
